Dear (44) How kind great number of applications from the botanists of Lapland the plants and seeds from the collections which I sent from the Haines station having been received with the greatest delight.

There are at present two ships that are destined to that place and I think will be able to forward any botanical living plants and seeds I think which you may be willing to send. I think that your own garden will be very successful. We had intended to present you to know in your collection of plants and seeds parcel of seed to this will be ready on a fortnight and posted by rail within a few days of each other.

The present season, I admit, is not favorable for those exotic plants to Europe; but I wish to avail myself of the present opportunity to think of seeds for the churches of this ship, coming out: I am in at most favorable season being very uncertain.

Truly, m. dear lady, with love and favor reply to his request, and then exceedingly oblige me.

gent from some time ago: either from the gardens of the Liverpool Botanic Institution, Mr Stephens. Being anxious to answer it, I beg you will have the goodness to return it if you can.
I had valuable correspondence with Mr. Mansel from a Nassau man.

Yours sincerely

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the

to the above matter.

I have conferred with the Board of

are of the opinion that it is not advisable to grant the same.

Dear Casey
I am in pleasure to send you two bills for unemployment charges which were sent to the guardian from the civil auditor's office. I am ordered to receive charge of the garden in the first of next month
- I think day I will have the pleasure to come to you but I have a greater risk by promising me to send down my promise a few days before the end of the month as it is likely that after all this time ~~the~~ the weather will be more favorable for some time, and as I should have to pay house rent next I do remain beyond the front of myself with in my house at Calcutta. I make mention the request in the hope that you will by no means but pardon the inconvenience in my account; and I trust that you will be

Dear Wallcut, I have made a list of the furniture to be taken out of the house on the 31st inst. I shall be at the garden to deliver over to your charge the public property.
And on the 1st ^{inst} proposals you may refer to on empty house because I am determined to leave no meaning upon your appts which convene on that day - Before that day, the inconvenience to the house have yet to seek is based on it be greater for to quit than for you to remain among your many friends I should like Mr Wood's silly mis-take has not seduced you into a request

So unreasonable - I assure you I shall be extremely particular in leaving a clear field for you on the 1st it was my intention to have spoken to you concerning the widow J. who has

A. Trotter Esq

Acting Secretary to the Government

Sir

Having last evening had the honor to receive your letter dated the 4th inst^t ^{A..^} cover to a copy ^{tf'.~J&} of the complaint lodged against me by Mr. Apich^t Surgeon Henderson as also to a copy of its enclosure (the original of which had been privately addressed to myself some time ago by the same officer) I lose not a moment in offering for the information of his Lordship in Council that explanation of the subject of those letters which his excellency in Council has been pleased to call for: & I shall not trespass on ^{,~^} [^] his time by further profuse remark than while I express ^{-y".~-} and regret that Mr. Henderson who has on this occasion in a ^{*m*EL^:~} ^{W M. d[~f<d} ^{&0*~--* MStr+F JI*} sense been an offending party should have come [^] forward in answer, & that in language the justice the order & the accuracy of which it will be for his Lordship in Council to decide upon.

Some days ago when I came down to the gardens to assume charge as superintendent I found there & (through D^r Hare) was introduced to Mr. Henderson; a young gentleman lately arrived.

who I understood was awaiting himself of a visit to St. Hare towards the attainment of some botanical information - on such an occasion, I thought it but courteous to say to Mr. Henderson that I hoped the charge of Superintendent would have no effect as to his botanical views in altering them ^{or} ^{} ^d consequence Mr. Henderson became my private guest - of my behaviour ^{} - 4r-*A& of look it is not for me to say much; but it may be discerned from Mr. Henderson's own letter notwithstanding my the most of accusations he has excited that "£&&iJL" was not merely tendered but "experienced while under my roof" - with such a disposition on the outset towards Mr. Henderson it was not reasonable readily to believe that I should be in the sequel inclined even in an extreme case to lead him in that outrageous manner which his language would incite; & in truth Mr. Henderson (though a stranger to me & certainly not the most interesting of young men) met from me true cordiality of manner till the very evening preceding the day he quitted my society an evening on which he seemed to have lost sight of what he owed himself as a reasoning agent & to me as a member of Society to him civilly disposed.

A few days after this acquaintance commenced I received from St. Hare a bill of preperty belonging to the honorable Company's garden the accuracy of which it was my duty as Superintendent to ascertain - It was a bill on sundry drawings illustrating the Indian Flora as of drawings in copy & original appertaining to natural history some principally under the direction of Dr Francis Buchanan - It being especially necessary to ascertain this point before Dr Hare's departure I had these drawings counted over before me; & from some mis-arrangement in turning them over on a former occasion some seemed to be missing - on counting them a second time the detached ones were found in one of the post-packets; but I yet missed a volume of the Roxburgh drawings - This I made search for and at length found in the Room occupied by Mr Henderson who was then absent in Calcutta. - This volume was placed with the rest and the Apistant received my directions to keep every thing together till an inventory in a more regular form were drawn up for my signature.

While this business was in actual progress Mr Henderson returned from town and perceiving that the volume had been taken from his apartment demanded it back from the apistant; his attention to his instructions was making out his schedule & said he could not let Mr Henderson have it without a reference to me. Such reference would at once have explained the business; but Mr Henderson did not so well apply reasoning as I can collect from his public complaints that he had authority to take & use these documents without any control. Had Mr Henderson considered for an instant the necessity of a transfer of this nature he must m. Xr. V^>w O<.*P have justified the propriety & necessity of retaining or withholding these matters for a few hours for official purposes purposes; but he was not thus reasonable, for he instantly caught at the notion that I had given orders to detain him from access to these documents - an object, Sir, which, if I had entertained it at all, I should have aimed at before Mr Henderson became an inmate with me - In the evening while seated with me at tea Mr Henderson dropped several incoherent sentences upon the great illiberality of people in public stations - Finding that he had been directing his observations at my conduct I begged he would explain which he did by bluntly telling me "I had spelt all his prospects on further inquiry it appears that this mischief & un-called for declaration was caused by what I have above related - He said I had ordered him to be refused the use of the books - This Sir I denied - He persisted - I asked him when he had applied to me for any thing & refused it? His strange reply on this occasion is not unworthy of remark - He said "he applied there" My remark to this Sir, was: that, if so, "he did not do it as a gentleman ought" - Mr Henderson then spoke of various rights & pretensions he said he had the right of every thing on any thing in the office and in a tone which bespoke absolute independence of reference to me - Now Sir to this I could not at all subscribe - In my view Mr Henderson had no pretensions of the kind with any colour of consistency - Being merely a private guest politely secured him every facility or access he required; but in a public sense I had had no intimation or notice whatever that Mr Henderson was to exercise authority here - If this were the case it would materially alter the nature of my responsibility

I plain every thing said & confusion; for the public & private duty or requisition must blend & compound & clash. That Mr. Henderson's pretensions were of so very defined, so univocal, and rambling a nature, that he appeared to ~~be~~ ^{be} ~~under~~ ^{under} a temporary mental derangement - I appealed to his understanding (for the acuteness of which I can since understand he figures himself out a little) but he still talked in the same strain, which I found it necessary to put a stop to by saying that "Mr. Henderson, talked more like a man in liquor than a reasonable person & that if he had not dined in my own company I should really have thought he had had too much wine" This Sir is the substance of what occurred in that conversation which Mr. Henderson has termed "gross terms of abusive language" & which he says "obliged him to quit the botanic residence" Mr. Henderson did in fact leave the house early next morning but left the house unincumbered with his people and baggage -

In the course of 2 day or two after Mr. Henderson wrote me that "after a copy of what accompanied his letter to Government - You perceive Sir it begins with the mention of "obligation" and "hospitality" & calls upon me to retract what I said upon the odd & univocal return he made for that hospitality & kindness - He says he does not wish a word better said retracted - yet he calls on me to retract what he affects to call the "influence of passion" and he menaces me if I do not do so, with the threatened regard of our common acquaintance - It behoves me to remark that Mr. Henderson & I have no common acquaintance regain me at all - and I see not how I could retract my real sentiments respecting Mr Henderson sincerely believed & in candid self defence spoken - I was convinced now of what I then believed & spoke; but my conviction is of a grave nature & more serious cast for I see that folly to be of a mischievous & permanent nature which I at that time considered to be the effect of inexperience & ignorance of the world & of good society - Between the head and heart of Mr Henderson I suspected there was something radically wrong & I was not sorry to be relieved of so troublesome a young man who were he of mild & regulated habits might have had opportunity to learn more than what he professes "to be so fond of"

I can well assure, Sir, that there is something said here which the strict code of official language may not warrant; but I hope I may be allowed to remark that my private & social character is untainted & that the officer who has pertaken of the kindness of my table has first insulted me & then publicly denounced me: the language of indignation honor will therefore have indulgence in the bosoms of this Honble Government who while they judge as Governors will feel as gentlemen nevertheless - I am however bound to offer apology should my words bear with them any offence to the dignified ears of my superiors - To that letter of Mr Hendersons I thought it my duty to make no reply - It contained more inconsistency than I could to acknow-ledge & more inaccuracy than I could / as far as concerns Mr Hendersons hope to correct - Besides it

it was private and at my discretion - it was one drawing & sally and therefore beneath my notice - It contains one special innuendo which a proper subject for the good opinion of my superiors & justice to myself oblige me here to correct - It speaks of our 'disputes' This plurality I must protest against as more suited to Mr Henderson's years & habits than mine - The natural construction of this would sound as if Mr Henderson & I had frequent squabbles - This was not the case - The conversation of the impertinent nature above mentioned was the first that ever occurred & I am determined that it shall be the last of the same kind I shall have with that young Gentleman -

Mr Henderson (I think) was disappointed that I did not enter the lists with him as a correspondent - I could not forgive my Colonel & having his private communications misstated he has had recourse to a public channel & deems my silence to what he considers a consoling & reasonable letter as a prominent topic of accusation which I hope & trust the tribunal to which he has appealed will not from the nature of the case be willing to admit -

What remains to be said of Mr Henderson's conduct is of a public nature & better suited to the notice of Government -

When Mr Henderson departed in the above mentioned ungracious manner, he still had his followers continually harassing the Queen; who when arrested

asserted as stragglers made use of Mr Henderson's name in justification. vi. JSL was something not unreasonable while Mr Henderson's property remained in the house; but it continued so after its removal, may Mr Henderson had a Man or Men employed in the H. Company's Seed-House without my knowledge. Thus I am now informed though I am entitled to think the Men were of the H. Company's own servants but occupied on Mr Henderson's private ^{^..^..^y'} and though that business was of a botanic nature still it was plain there was authority exclusive of my superintendance exercised in the gardens, & orders issued which were calculated to elude my cognizance. Underhand dealings of all kinds are very abhorred, & in this case the natives saw they had two persons to ^{C*-r4E £f} — Secrecy involves two conclusions — Either the employment was improper or it gave the Men to understand that I was not to be consulted as one who had any control in these matters or a Man so unnecessary as to prevent them. Since Mr Henderson's departure I have found out these proceedings, which evidently shew that Mr Henderson by no ^{rt - i - i r - ^t^JcU* ->-r} with that openness which my treatment of him called for — or my disposition towards him deserved —

Some days after Mr Henderson's quitting ^{~CT ^j*^^} he caused a tent to be pitched in the Honourable ^{<^>^)t*--^J^} Plantation without my knowledge or the slightest notice of his intention so to do; & his followers passed backwards & forwards, authorized solely by that gentleman - When it came to my knowledge I thought it my duty to send the European Overseer to enquire was Mr Henderson authorized to do so by official documents? - For, every admission ticket issued by Government is brought to me as superintendent and locally responsible - Mr Henderson sent for answer (as he himself complains) that "unless I choose to write what I wished to know" he would give no answer" Thus once more Mr Henderson returns to the charge of demanding correspondence & in a very plain case not admitting of doubt - He could not but know I was placed here by the ruling authorities, that it was my duty to enquire, & though in his own case he complains I made little of him in the eyes of the Natives, he scruples not to make nothing of me in the eyes of all employed on these premises - Considering Mr Henderson a trespasser I directed the European Overseer to take care that Mr Henderson's tent was removed and his followers shewn out unless they could shew a ticket of admission or had public business to do - This was accordingly done & I have every reason to believe was done with mildness - You will have remarked Sir that Mr Henderson endeavours to justify this breach of a public order by pleading ignorance that it was the H. Company's estate - This is but to say he trespassed he knew not where - Mr. Henderson cannot believe that ground so near Calcutta may be chosen & occupied as terra incognita - He had no where else to pitch except he trespassed on the land of my learned neighbour Sir John Poynder But, Sir, though Mr. Henderson has mistaken his ground for "an old Bazar" I can assure you it was nevertheless the H. Company's new plantation - When Mr. Henderson wishes to defend his own con-duct he does not know that he was within the Honble Company's premises; but again, when he would insinuate outrage against me & the people under me, he tells you in his letter that he found "every thing belonging to him seemingly thrown on the outside of the garden-hedge" -

I am pained, Sir, to be thus obliged to occupy your time by a defence of this nature but which has become necessary on many accounts - Mr. Henderson's public letter does my character & habits a marked injustice I am partial to the young year & especially so when it is diligently & liberally employed - My habits have been those of ~~industry~~ -temerance & abstinence of all liquors - I should wish to do my duty with proper firm-ness and yet with all the amenity of a Gentleman - I have tried to appear as the M^r

Mr. Henderson: if I have not succeeded, it is not very unlikely after all it may appear the fault was his own. This explanation, Sir, I have the honor to offer you for the information of his excellency the right honorable the Governor General in Council which I close with my sincere apology for its length and equally sincere regret that the first official communication addressed by me to you should be in defence of my character as a Gentleman & my duty as a public officer.

Extract of three letters from Mr. W. H. Woodruff to D. H. Terry

Dear Sir
Chambersburg, Pa. July 11th

I have the satisfaction of thanking you for your letter of the 10th inst. which in the usual course of business has been since the last regulations of the Post Office took effect, only reached me last week.
I will briefly first to the business committee report of it. I have one doubt that D. Wallcut has received his bill to the extent of the Botanic Garden. Natural History particularly Botany is his private business and he is certainly entitled to much consideration for what he has done. The same one in England better qualified for the charge of the garden than himself. But I cannot meet with propriety in the re-employment of the person in charge of the office. Indeed I should not be surprised if the determination here taking should be that of out and eminent Botanist one at the very head of the science to fill the office of Superintendent of the Garden. It is now eight or 10 years has not quite followed of course that it is what will be done. It is talked of by some of the gentlemen.

My dear Sir

In continuation of my letter written and dispatched a week ago I am sensible to what having some understanding of the garden I more particularly alluded to is not desiring to be taken the office of Superintendent of the Garden at Chambersburg. I have the honor to be, Sir, your obedient servant no longer felt any scruple in naming the Society of Directors and the subject and suggesting the name of D. Wallis for a provisional nomination which by the vote which the suggestion in your letter to me went for I could not help thinking that D. Wallis was requesting it of you under the same thing more or less.

Dr. Johnson and I were conversed a great deal on the subject, we have a paper at the Court which states of them the reasons of appointing Dr. Wallis without appointment and mentioning the name of D. Wallis as a fit person partly on your Letter to me of the 14th and partly on your Memorial to us of the 15th and the temporary arrangement. I read the paper in your presence and there was nothing very material in my letter which is now the repetition of many of the points in the paper. Signed J. H. C.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Letter of the 13th and in consequence of the consequence of the Court of Directors, to be for the Bank certifying D. Wallis for the Superior Law of the Ottoman Garden and recommending that he should be appointed provisionally to the said Court of Directors, was accordingly placed to name the said D. Wallis. I understand their resolution is that the Court's appointment of him will take effect forthwith. I beg you will offer him my congratulations. I have the honor to be Dear Sir, I have entered only a few lines on the subject of the Court's appointment of D. Wallis to the

With great propriety therefore, in this instance

We beg leave to address you on the subject of the Hon^{ble} Company's Botanic Garden at Calcutta; an Institution which has been eminently conducive to the advancement of Botanical Science; under the superintendance of the late Dr Roxburgh; and in which we cannot but feel a special interest, having respectively had the charge of it for a period of more than a twelvemonth each, in the absence of Dr Roxburgh on account of health.

From our >>t4 4 - acquaintance with i jh* ; institution under his superintendance & the opportunity of personal experience of the functions of the superintendant, we are convinced in the opinion if yu that it requires previous habits & a turn of mind so far peculiar, & that the several branches of % Hon^{ble} Company's service cannot be presumed to of course present to the r y / lution of the Government, person qualified for the office by devotion to natural knowledge & to a inas of botany in particular, and habitua & activity in the promotion of it.

Though the requisite, tfi lifications are of no high order, the duties of the different branches or what the avocations posing the Companye « are naturally

Our own attention was directed to the matter by communication from Dr Carey, who to more eminent attainments joins a knowledge of Botany & a taste for horticulture, & we beg leave to lay before you Copies of his Letters to us. We are enabled to do this in testimony of the Diligence & attention of Dr Mallick as Deputy of the Superintendent. Our own previous knowledge of Dr Mallick's devoted attention to natural History especially Botany & his cultivation of that science. Dr Mallick is an Assistant in the Company's service, & should your Hon^{ble} Court see fit to appoint him to succeed in the next vacancy of the Superintendent of the Botanic Garden of the Asiatic Society, it will be a great advantage to the Institution as Botanical science in general, will be benefited by his labors in discharge of the duties of the office. We have the honor to be, Sir, your obedient servant

Extracts of three letters from Mr. R. Colbrooke to Dr. W. Carey.

Dear Sir,

Stamford 6th Jan 1817

I have the satisfaction of thanking you for your letter of the 21st which in the usual mode of communication since the last regulations of the Post Office took effect only reached me last week. I will reply first to the more immediate object of it. I have no doubt that Dr. Wallis has some claim to the situation at the Post Office Garden - natural history particularly Botany is his forte and he is certainly entitled to much consideration for what he has done. There is no one in Bengal better qualified for the charge of the Garden than himself. But I could not with propriety stir them in his favor against the person in possession of the office. Indeed I should not be surprised if the determination here taken should be that of sending out an eminent Botanist and at the very head of the business to fill the office of Superintendent of the Garden. It is what ought to be done. But it does not quite follow of course that it is what will be done. It is talked of.

Signed R. Colbrooke

Stamford 17th Jan 1817

My dear Sir,

In continuation of my letter written and dispatched a week ago I am enabled to add that I have since understood that the gentlemen I more particularly alluded to, is not desirous of proceeding to India to take the office of Superintendent of the Botanic Garden at ... I have no longer felt any scruples in moving the Court of Directors ^{J tk} ^{de i} ^{..} and suggesting the res^{>^^J} of Dr Wallich for ... which is the extent to which the suggestion is ... to ^{w-} ⁴ ^{eat}, tho' I should to something more immediate.

Dr Fleming and I concerted a joint ^{^fe} which we have addressed to the Court suggesting to them the expediency of making a provisional appointment and mentioning the name of [^] Wallich as a fit person, partly on our own knowledge of him and partly on your testimonials borne of his conduct in the temporary management. I wish thⁱ step may be of service to you.

There ^{t n M} is nothing very material in my letter, which is worth repeating by way of duplicate in this.

of Directors, backed by ... prospect for the Superintendance of the Botanic Garden and recommending that he should be appointed provisionally to the succession of the office. The Court yesterday pleased to nominate him absolutely, as I understand this resolution so that the Court's appointment of him will take effect forthwith. I beg you will offer him my congratulations. From his well known zeal for Botany I have entire confidence that his conduct in the Superintendance of the Garden, and in employing the opportunity afforded to him for the successful cultivation of the science and promotion of Botanical knowledge, will justify all what was said by us in his favor.

The Court of Directors has indeed received my collection with such contempt and arrogance that I would neither ask nor receive any favor from so scoundrelly a body. My collection would have been received with the utmost thankfulness by the most learned bodies here and might have gratified several of the most distinguished. Do not then throw any of your pearls before swine but collect largely and keep your collection for the learned of your own country, who I have no doubt will be thankful.

Extract from a General Letter from the Hon: Court of Directors, dated the 13th February 1817.

Para. 20th Although the situation of Superintendent of the Botanical Garden at your Presidency is, on account of the peculiar attainments which it requires that the person nominated thereto should possess, one among the few appointments in India the nomination to which we have thought it proper to retain in our own hands, yet as we have reasons to believe, as well from your recorded testimony, as the opinions at present in this Country, competent to form a correct judgment upon the subject, that Dr Wallich is possessed of those attainments, and that he is in every respect qualified for the office, we are induced in consequence of these circumstances to confirm this gentleman's appointment, and accordingly we direct, that immediately upon the receipt of these instructions you appoint Dr Wallich Superintendent of the Botanical Gardens at your Presidency.

Para. 21. We further direct, that in case you should have nominated any other person to the office above mentioned, the appointment be forthwith revoked, and that the same be conferred upon Dr Wallich.

Mr. Williamson

My dear Sir

I thank you much for the to me interesting proof sheet you have sent me of the proposed dictionary - The general plan of it appears to me to be good and that in selecting Johnson the authorities, valuable & acknowledged works on the basis of his translation - But since the days of Johnson the English language has been increasingly studied and I should think it a pity for the dictionary to be devoid of the latest improvements - instance in the first article in it namely A for view I sounds as in all, father, & place - This is but an imperfect view of the letter - and I perceive that Rasmussen has been departed from it and introduced N. Wallis

The second in part - But I think that A. B. is materially defective in something the second in fact which J. gives.

It strikes me that the work will be very valuable and the author hereafter acknowledged you *?~ benefactor - I am on this account impressed that it should be a perfect paper - I must therefore candidly acknowledge that (taking the first half what as specimens) it stands in need of a very careful revision - from the places in which it will admit of improvement seen to me from but a slight inspection to be necessary - for instance the second article in the work namely As is altogether

Edw. M.

out of its place - ~~we~~ ~~we~~ ~~would~~ we look for it ~~where~~ ~~where~~ ~~where~~ Am & Ao; why is it placed before Ab - In the first article this members are ~~put~~ ~~put~~ ~~put~~ 1, 2, 3, 4, & it will admit of explanation I ~~perceive~~ but is an unnecessary confusion & embarrassment to the eye - The pronunciation of A in ~~all~~ ~~all~~ ~~all~~ does not seem accurate. In the ~~first~~ it is ~~an~~ ~~an~~ ~~an~~ rather ~~resembling~~ the inherent vowel of the consonant ~~Q~~ ~~Q~~ ~~Q~~ which are pronounced be made such as ~~that~~ ~~that~~ ~~that~~ the

But the massive singular and in that connection an illustration being given which must be quite unintelligible & consequently useless and I make these remarks that fully aware as I am that the work may live and not merely become the basis of a subsequent by another hand I should ~~like to see~~ the expediency of adding the pronunciation of the English words as they come for explanation which would be of material advantage to a student of the English language and contribute materially I should think to its reception among the natives - as it now is it not even accounted for.

To H. H. Wilson Esq.

Secretary Asiatic Society,

Dear Sir

I have on several occasions taken the liberty to mention to you as well as to Mr. Harrington, that it is exceedingly necessary to shut up the Hall containing the collection of the Asiatic Society, during the hours, when the people belonging to the Museum are not in attendance, not only is the Hall open day and night, but serving as a passage for a people coming or belonging to Mr. Gibbons's apartments, the Museum is necessarily exposed to all the depredation and injuries, which are likely to result from native servants being allowed to pass and repass it without control and at all times.

The increasing value of the collections render it more than ever upon me as Superintendent to watch over its safety, and I find this cannot be done effectually without requesting that the rules which were adopted at the Commencement of the Constitution may be strictly adhered to, I therefore ^{ts-^jLg*4L} suggest that the Museum should be open for the inspection of the visitors from 9 o'clock until 5 only, that is during the time when the people belonging to it are in waiting and that it be shut at all other hours, and the keys kept with the Doorman, It is likewise expedient that the doors leading from the Museum to Mr Gibbons apartments be permanently shut up and that the rooms to the Westward of the Hall be as originally intended open for such articles as might be advantageously placed there, I finally request, as Complaints have arisen from my not being acquainted with all the articles which are sent for the Museum and consequently have neither been able to register all the donations or thank the Donors, that directi-de cet établissement ne se perdent pas dans les terres, au lieu de leur culture pour l'usage des mêmes espèces, et pour l'avantage de nos possessions et pour répandre leur culture. Il est utile aussi d'envoyer chaque espèce dans une

My dear Waller, Dec 25 Aug

As our acquaintance, I am afraid will become very feeble, from want of occasional correspondence, and as I am the most idle of the two, I am happy to have an opportunity of enquiring after your health and happiness, and hope to hear that you are getting more practis'd that you ^{<v} had before. For your benevolence is not ~~addressed~~ to those who are sick, but to those who are poor.
I am in hopes of seeing you some of these days in Calcutta, but when I know not how soon I am about leaving Ramason, at which I rejoice for many reasons, I shall trouble to enquire, as fast as possible to join the Marquis of Hastings, as he has propos'd giving me the ^{sole} charge of his Body Guard & that it is a very poor, & expensive appointment. I could not refuse it, as it was in a private letter the Gen^l Marshall comen'd ^{a^/*} it at Cawnpore, who communitated it to me. I should be had ~~been~~ ^{been} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~same~~ ^{same} ~~situation~~ ^{situation} for some time, and ^{we} consider that I am now in a fair way, as I shall be always at Head Quarters. From what we hear of in these parts of the preparations for taking the field with a very formidable army, I should suppose that the Marquis will not always remain in our situation, it is generally reported that the army goes towards Hindoo Territories, and to join the Madras Army, which is now in the field under Havelock, that the latter gives the subsidiary force to Nagpore - I have no doubt that there will be a campaign during the whole of the winter weather, I shall write to you occasionally, I tell you all the news, you will have the satisfaction of giving authenticity to your news by having it from Head Quarters. We are not so laid up here as the Madras have been lately in Calcutta, for there are only two, Daby & Ingle to act against our friends & enemies, but all the officers chose to cut us, however they have the worst of it, as they are occasionally in want of some Cordial. My friend Daby intends to visit the Presidency in the cold weather, to have the advice of Nicholson, as he has had some serious attacks of suppuration of the lungs. I am for any other the liberty of introduction to you you will find him a very fine young man, and a most well informed in the way of his profession. If you can ^{see} him any attention while he is at La Cotta, shall consider it conferred upon myself. When do you expect to be a surgeon for my part I do not think I shall ever be promoted. ~~But~~ the ~~fact~~ who was up here, a short time but whose situation was ^{to} Morabach, is appointed to a ~~post~~ duty him if he is obliged to join us, as he has always been ^{at} a civil station where he had ^{5 e} ^{thing} to do, but will move by the way with these hills. - ^{be} ^{the} if young the ~~same~~ man Mr. ~~Brain~~ succeeds me here, I do not envy him in his new appointment he will have lots of the disgraces and expenditure of medicine, with a ^c very small allowance for the same. ^x shall be cautious how I make acquaintance with Civilians. I have been living for these last 6 months quite alone in my tent all the while, I have nearly finished building a house here, which I have sold to the Disputant of the ~~post~~ for my use.

what it cost me. I dread going to the Plains at the *C^T now, where it is especially hot & close, from a delightful climate, where the thermometer in the shade is! The hottest part of the day is seldom above 72° and at the same time fresh breezes of cool wind that comes over the mountains. I am sure I shall Z; terribly from the heat at first, and from insects of which there are very few here. I shall be most happy to hear from you, whenever you have leisure, and let me know, how you succeed in Practice, I should suppose Mr. White has been made a Justice of the Peace, with the appointment he has held, and holds now. How does your friend Lupton, does he still continue in taking the big Wigs eyes out as at first does he get into practice, I think he is a great quack. - Then you write you had better address to me at Beada as they may change occasi-ally. I have written to our friend Nicholson, and give my best respects to Mr. Wallich and

Dear Mr. Taylor

A recent communication from our structural geologist Mr. Sturtevant, has afforded me much pleasure in conveying to me your hopes of being able to commence the botanical correspondence with my brother, that I sometimes go over to the solicitor of you. I send you the specimens of Irish mosses, & will now begin the plan of studying this interesting branch of natural history that I had proposed doing for my brother's evaluation - as I have hopes that you have some immediate prospects with admit of establishing a correspondence with him - that I shall be happy to be the means of facilitating. I believe I mentioned to you, that my brother is engaged in the publication of a work on Mosses (or later) in conjunction with Mr. Hooker - as you'll perceive by referring to the 166th page of the Journal Linnæus, which will give you an idea of the great work that he prosecutes his mossological researches. He has already engaged the exertions of several persons in different parts of the world, on the continent at New Holland, & Africa, to supply him with specimens; & would deem himself the happiest being in existence, if you favoured him with a line on the subject, from this part of the world - I am going to say, with the Dead Skeleton of a one Indian I wish for new genus. For his part, I am satisfied, he would gladly do anything for you, in the United States - that lay in his power, to make a return for what, his repeated letters show, he would regard as an immense moral obligation. His ardour for the continuation, or rather his addiction to the science, has been for years back almost unparalled. Should these solicitations prove intrusive, pray excuse them; but I have been led to renew ^{them} both from the kind manner in which you so warmly received the proposal, & from the intercession of your friend Staunton. Yours dear to

To Dr. A. Wallis

Sir,

I am desired by the Asiatic Society to acknowledge your letter of the 6th Instant, stating the impossibility of your bestowing the requisite time and attention on the Asiatic Museum and requesting the nomination of one of their Members to act with you as joint superintendent of that institution.

The Asiatic Society are fully sensible of the obligations they owe to you, and are well aware that the origin of the Museum and its present flourishing state, are officially owing to your zeal and exertions. These exertions they would be happy were it possible to reciprocate; but they can not expect that you should undertake so task which must be attended with great personal inconvenience to yourself, when the distance of your fixed residence and official duties are taken into consideration.

The Society is also disposed to think that a joint superintendance is in many respects objectionable and that it would be desirable to adhere to the late arrangements which intrusted the charge and responsibility of superintendance to one individual. It has therefore been resolved to appoint one of their Members of the Society as sole superintendent and you will have no further trouble on this Account than to receive the best acknowledgments of the Society for your past exertions, which I determine that I am indebted to Yoursent.

My Dear Sir

Mr. Willman was so good as to close me your reply on the subject of Dr. Roxburgh's Mss. Descriptions, and I must gladly avail myself of your obliging invitation to a correspondence in which I shall set a high value, and which I

It gives me great pleasure to learn that Dr.
Roxburgh's Flora Indica is in course of publication, & will be a great acquisition to all Indian botanists. Can you get for me when it is likely to appear?

I shall have great satisfaction in communicating to you any botanical observations I have had an opportunity of making in England or elsewhere, & will look out as soon as I have leisure, for seeds or specimens which I think worth sending you. I fear I have procured very few seeds, for as I was not sufficiently settled to hope to reap what I sowed, I took little pains to fact not, at least I agree not with several plants not mentioned. I was somewhat surprised to find on the shores of the Torrey some of my English acquaintances as the Manum-calus sceleratus, Sagittaria sagittifolia &c. I found at Louisa a twining Ipomoea with patches of white flowers, which I think must be the Porana panicula ta Roxb: can you without giving yourself any trouble mention the essential character of that species? The calyx is persistent & some of the foliols are much enlarged like the great sepals. — Are the descriptions in your English new Flora in English, as in those already published. I am rather partial to the use in description as being more concise. Which do you prefer? — I almost doubt that I must conclude with regretting that I will have pleasure in communicating whatever there may be in my botanical collections at all likely to interest you; and if I can be in any way aiding to your pursuits, in this quarter, I shall well command me. I believe that

Sir,

I received through <£ f X in the name of Henry Lee Esq. on his return from Calcutta a parcel of seeds given to him by Mr Wallich Esq. the Superintendent of the Publick Garden. I was fau greatly gratified by this mark of attention. The season at which the seeds reached me was not proper for sowing them so that full year elapsed before I could do it — So admirably were they ripened & put up, however, that a considerable part vegetated.

Our Greenhouses (for they are such rather than Stoves) are not calculated for the tenderest of your plants.

It had been my intention to collect a number of the seeds of our Indigenous plants for your institution but I was suddenly called to visit Great Britain from which I have just returned too late to collect them.

This part of the United States is nearly of the same temperature with Scotland & even of northern

My Dear Sir

I had the pleasure only to receive your most welcome dispatch of the 16th Inst. and beg you will accept my warmest thanks for the present of papers you so kindly send me, & particularly for the friendly manner in which you promise me the favor of your correspondence the value of which I duly appreciate. Your excellent descriptions of the two Sorcalobi are peculiarly valuable as illustrating a new genus of a difficult & intricate race of plants.

The Campanula delioides I at once recognized as the same species which I had found & described in the Transactions, without being then able to assign it a specific name. The plate gives a very correct & excellent representation of it. — The Banksia racemosa is also an acquaintance of mine; it was common on the forest at the foot of the Nepal hills, covering & overshadowing the Saul trees, & often nearly equalling them in size & strength. — Of the three plants with which you have favored me of the Tentamen Flor. Nep. Illustratae I cannot speak in terms sufficiently high. The plan, the elegance & minuteness of the descriptions, & when we add, the typographical execution, combine to render it one of the most valuable works on the Flora of any country. I trust the circumstances which interrupted its progress will ^{M99.} prevent your returning soon from an accumulation of minute & perfect descriptions, such as yours, that we have henceforth to look for considerable improvements in the science, & for an approximation to a perfect ^{is} natural system. In reading your description of the Crathamus, it brought to my mind a plant I had seen at Louisa, whose fruit seems to resemble yours, & in summarizing I found a capsule which I enclose. The plant was not in flower, so that I could not examine ^{4--} it, but the habit was that of the Apoeyneae. - I enclose a poor specimen of another of that tribe which I found on the banks of the bay near Nagshead, & which is remarkable by its inflated capsules. I am at a loss what to make it unless it be one of those removed by Roxburgh to Asclepias & included under the name Pseudo-sarsa. You can probably tell me. - I am much obliged to you for the specific characters of the P. T^A way. There must be the penicillata, ^{t^A} but I have discovered ^p the margin of the corolla as 5 lobed lobes marginatis, & Roxb. says re A^A by entire. I enclose a bunch of the ripe fruit. - I send you a description of a species of Veronica a native of the Norway, which I think may be new, as I do not observe any of the genus in ^{the} Cat: Horti. - I have not been able to find the specimen, but may hereafter. It would be another link between the genera of Europe & India.

I also enclose a description of a pretty little plant which I have called ^{t^J} Androsace, but am not sure whether you will admit it as such on account of the calyx. Of too I have not found a specimen; I have had so little time sure to attend to their preservation, & you know how soon ^{1/2} they ^{} to rot, that I find I am much short of them than expected. I have however a drawing of this, [•], which ^{- K}, or a copy I will send you, if you think it likely to be new. — I add a description & specimen of a Tertiary plant to which I have not been able to assign a generic name, & of which too I have a drawing. — I have given the native name but I do not know that it is well ascertained; it is not easy to get corrections for plants that are not ^{f/i} of remarkable or applied to some ^{••<^} — I have put up a specimen of Evolutus, which does not agree with the described species, & which perhaps you can tell me if ^{/c} it is Nox b. Epilobas. — Among my specimens I meet with one of the Fupilia Pittacorum which I collected at Bhangul pore, but I do not [|] see it ^{^ ^} mentioned in the catalogue. Is it an omission?

I have a beautiful Monadelphian Polyandrian plant which I can ^{*•~+} assign to any of the known genera. ^{¥.} ^{Kf} I observe that Nox b. has established a new genus, the Careya; may I give you the trouble of mentioning its generic character, and if you would add the description of the C. herbacea, I will be able to decide if it is my plant or not. - Quot tropasium too men An your kindness, I would ask you to add the character of the Saponaria, - potato N. when I think is likely to be a species with frequently in our fields in Tohoo.

You see, My Dear Sir, I have freely availed myself of your obliging offer of sending me botanical enquiries; it is now high time to stop for the present - or you will repent to have brought a truth - I have only to add the utmost regard with which I am yours very truly

My Dear Sir
— ~~excuse me~~ about?

It is now some days since that the pleasure to receive your very welcome letter, dated 1st 11th. no opportunity of forwarding my reply has occurred till now.

I assure you to believe that the apologies with which you have prefaced your application are altogether unnecessary, and that I congratulate myself on the opportunity of forming an acquaintance with you, looking forward with anticipations pleas-ant to your future correspondence.

The Sample to which you allude not having been before noticed even by your Pedagogue, I had feared that such collections were accounts of no value, and discouraged by the failure, I had totally relinquished all enquiries of a Natural nature especially as I am not qualified for the research by any scientific knowledge of that branch of Natural Philosophy. Your flattering mention was however to regret that I had so hastily abandoned the pursuit, but I shall be most happy to receive it under your auspices and instruction.

The advanced state of the season already denies access to the woods bordering upon the Himalaya, and new specimens cannot by any means be procured at this moment.

P. Strobo proserpina. —

The long coned pine - called Rassula (or King of Firs) - has its leaves produced from a sheath, as in the longifolia. Their location seven on each cluster - I think too that the length of the leaf is from 3 to 4 inches - The cone is in an erect state or erect, but as it approaches to maturity it declines, and ultimately becomes pendulous before its scales open - It is remarkably rich in Empurine, and appears to me to breathe of the little of fine essence which has been conferred upon it in every respect.

P in lucida wall.

The common or purple coned pine, Scopagon to be new, at least I can discover no mention of any which corresponds with it - The leaves are about one inch long, of a beautiful bright green having a white stripe along the center, pointed about $\frac{1}{2}$ of an inch, a rather more in breadth. produces 4 scales.

The delicacy hue of the bark - the beautiful contrast of the leaves with the rich purple of the cones, glittering with globules of transparent resin produce in combination one of the most striking & of which can be imagined - It is entitled to precedence for ornamental purposes, and is undoubtedly thought a desirable acquisition in England.

If the leaves happen to be solitary, this comes very near to P. adriaticus; this probably renders it all impossible that they get not provided.

Of the leaves of the smaller cones I saw only one that they are short, and that they adhere so slightly to the branch that a slight shake is sufficient to detach them.

The sample with a small cone having its scales very closely arranged & by pronounced to be the type from the leaves, and general appearance, but I am uncertain about the fruit.

The March packet sent a specimen of cones in the year. The specimen which I mistook for Juniper is certainly the Creeping Cedar - Juniper

I have despatched today a sample of cedar which I recently met with for the first time - There were only three trees in the whole of Pergina, and these being held in veneration I was only permitted to remove a small sample from the exterior part, but although the paper fails to strongly the color, and sent by the heart of the trees there is sufficient of both to assure you that it is the genuine Pinus Cedrus.

About April next when the season again opens business will probably lead me to the northern part of Gurbival a province remarkably fertile in forest productions, and where as I am informed the cedar is so plentiful as to be used for fuel. I shall then be happy to procure for you any thing which you may wish for, or to prosecute any enquiries which you may suggest - The more exact your directions the more successful will be the collecting.

to the mean time I hope frequently to hear from you, and I wish you to consider whether it might not be worth while to send with me, under my direction, one or two Native Draftsmen that we may obtain drawings of the scenery - I have no doubt you would comply with an application from you to this effect, and even if you cannot detect any persons from your own establishment two men may perhaps be procured at Y^{know}, who have formerly been employed under D^{utty} in this particular branch at a salary of £ or 700 Rs. each.

Accept my thanks for your friendly offer of rendering me any service in Calcutta, I shall not scruple, if need be, to avail myself, and more especially if you set me a good example by freely commencing my services here.

No 11 Dec 1774

My Dear Sir

A variety of interruptions have prevented me from replying earlier to your most acceptable letter of the 18th ult. which came duly to hand with the engravings belonging to your "Tentamen". They are indeed beautiful, and may vie with the productions of European artists. In one respect, I think they are superior to the colored engravings of England, as I observe the shades are given by deepening the color, so that each is in part a drawing, whereas at home, I believe the usual way is to lay the color on even, and trust to the engraving for the shades. - The engraving part is executed with great delicacy.

I have great pleasure in sending you the specimen of the Fipilia &c and the drawing of the Androsace. As they are rather too large for enclosure in a letter, I shall put them up between a couple of boards, along with other specimens, and send them by the first Bangy dispatch. This I believe will be the safest mode of transmission. I enclose the short description made of the Fissilia, and Q have given at the bottom a sketch of the parts of fr-£+ <: r fr< tion.

I am extremely obliged by your giving me the Characters of Nashburgh's Carex and of the Saponaria prostrata. My Monadelphium is beyond a doubt the C. herbacea, and a most beautiful little plant it is. I found (1 / on some spots of the crown have plain t€s &Z ££. &t-+2

I also trouble you with a description of an Exacum, which I think will prove one perhaps be able to ascertain. I regret that I have not a specimen. Must now conclude

My Dear Sir,

Agreeably with the request of our President on leaving Bengal for these parts, during last month, I collected such few specimens in the Botanical Department as the unfavorable season of the year presented and have done myself the pleasure of transmitting them to your address by Bank Bazaar of to day. The account will probably inform you Bengal; as you'll observe there are 3 kinds there in the way are the Growth of the Mountains 3 3, which is I believe what is called the White Oak is found in the Forest, the Tree from which it is off is small and the wood reckoned not good for much but the Leaves are from fine trees that are growing at the Summit of the Mountain of Chasapancee The Map will likely take note and be as acceptable to your country as the specimen of the Room Room or Rama Gowindhee is to the Hindoo Deities or the Deities of the Nature Ladies. It is a curious plant and grows ^{at} on Sarcocolla, like the Urtica, in cool of shady spots - dying in the Autumn but flowers in the Plains when its perfume is said to be much stronger than at present. In Calcutta I'm told it sells in the native Druggists Shops at Shupce the Saleh and is purchased to be used in offerings to the Gods.

My Dear Sir

I was gratified by the receipt of your letter of the Jth 11th the day after I wrote you last. There is no doubt that our plant is the A- Androsace rotundifolia; the figure you were so kind as to enclose, agrees exactly, as you will perceive by the drawing I have sent. I knew that Cal. Good- winche had mentioned a plant by the name of A. ro- tundifolia on his ff. account of his journey to Sibirique, but he remarks that the flowers are as large as those of a cowslip & a pretty mixture of white & red, which I thought could not apply to mine. The figure in Smith is of the natural size, & surely much smaller than a cowslip. I had the satisfaction to see catch by Benny on the 9th inst, a parcel containing a drawing of the Androsace which I think you will find pretty correct, and the specimens of the Pipilia with several others. I also sent a drawing of a little Gynandrian of which the Description N^o. 1 is enclosed. I do not suppose it can be new, though I have not been able to ascertain it; probably you may be acquainted with it.

I sent a specimen of another of the same class Dec. 12 1817.

Yours
J. Smith

I have marked N^o 2. & which puzzled me much. I enclose in this the attempt which I made to describe it, with which however I am very ill satisfied, but perhaps you may be able to form some idea of it by the aid of the sketch at the bottom, and the specimen If you can search out the plant, I shall be much obliged if you would take the trouble to correct my description; the part I wish is the nectarium or lower lip of the corolla. It is at the base continuous *~ K then suddenly becomes erect & expands into a large petal; can the acute angle it makes in becoming erect be legitimately considered a corolla?
 I met a specimen of a Strobilium which I found in a paper but could not ascertain for want of the leaves & fruit. If you are acquainted with yours, you may perhaps recognize it without them and I enclose the memorandum I made of it. - You will also find a specimen of a Coccoloba of which I now send the description. - I think it must belong to that genus, but I observe that all the species in the "Catalogue" are scandent shrubs, which is not the case with this one. There are also specimens of two plants belonging to the Nat. Order of Anagrace, which I have marked with the native name ^{yJL.} "Suroohie" for I am really at a loss to what genus to refer them. Their descriptions

I now send; though they differ in the number of stamens, they certainly belong to one genus, indeed they are so like each other as scarcely to be distinguished at first sight. — The descriptions accompanying their respective specimens. I will state to be a ⁴ Didymotis, but I am doubtful as to the species.
 There has been much confusion among authors, between that genus & Alchemilla, pray what is the true distinction bet[€] " ^{*<+} ^{^u^i^} ^{ki^} the former as 4 petaled, and others make the corolla 5 pet. The other specimen I conjectured might be a Tabernaemontana & have marked it so, but it is difficult to ascertain the plants of the family without the ripe fruit which I did not see.
 It is a puzzling circumstance, but often unavoidable to be left in doubt about a plant for want of some particular part of fructification.
 Along with the others I put up a specimen of what I take to be Raybunghia Cristata tormentosa, if I am right, I should like to know for what reason it is placed in Actandria, for I never could find a single flower with so few as eight stamens.

I am quite vexed that I have not found a specimen of the Androsace, and still more that I have, I fear lost that of the Veronica. Since I have had the pleasure of your correspondence, I am quite angry with myself for having taken so little pains to preserve specimens; the truth is, I had never before met with any one of congenial pursuits to whom I could have the pleasure of communicating the [&]—, and my attention has ^{WTS} a good deal turned to other objects. I hope some of those now sent will prove accepta-a subject — I will now conclude with [^] [^]
