OOTACAMUND

The principal town in the Nilgiris is about 7,250 feet above sea-level and, although the mornings in winter are frosty, snow is unknown. The average annual rainfall is about 52.14 inches. It is the summer headquarters of the Governor of Madras. Government house is an imposing structure in beautiful grounds

The Nilgiris railway runs from Mettupalayam at the foot of ghats, to Ootacamund via Coonoor. There is a splendid motoring road from Mettupalayam to Ootacamund (32 miles via Coonoor, Wellington and Aruvankadu), which is kept in perfect order, and scenery all along is magnificent. There is a regular motor bus service between Coonoor and Ootacamund, the buses plying every half hour. There is also a similar service between Coonoor and Mettupalayam, where buses run every hour. All the main roads in the Nilgiris are exceptionally fine. The whole of Ootacamund is lit electrically and there is a good water supply

TUTICORIN

The terminus of the South Indian Railway, 446 miles from Madras and the chief port of the district affording good shelter to small boats, but owing to the shallowness of the water, steamers of even moderate draught have to anchor some seven miles from the shore. Tuticorin is also a municipal town and of great commercial importance. It lies in the Srivaikuntam taluk of the Tirunelveli district and is situated on the west shore of the Gulf of Mannar and between the mouths of the Tambrapani and Vaippar. There are large cotton mills in the town and extensive salt factories. There is limited accommodation for travellers at the railway station. Languages spoken:—English and Tamil

*There is a Traveller's Rest House in the town
The District Headquarters are at Tirunelveli*

EDUCATIONAL

UNIVERSITY OF KERALA, Trivandrum [The University of Travancore, established under an Act promulgated by H H The Maharaja of Travancore on 1st November, 1937, was reconstituted as University of Kerala from 30th August, 1957. The chief aims of the University are to effect a recognition of the system of education in the State with a view to the gradual development of technical and technological education, to make greater and more systematic provision for the furtherance of original research in the various branches of applied science and to provide for the conservation and promotion of Kerala art and culture. The Senate, consisting of between no and 120 members, is the legislative body of the University and has general control over the affairs, concerns and properties of the University subject to the ultimate control of the governments. In addition to the ex-officio members (the vice-chancellor the pro-vice-chancellor, the director of public instruction. Deans of faculties and principals of colleges) the Senate includes also representatives of faculties, first grade private colleges, registered graduates and a certain number of members nominated by the Chancellor. The Senate is to be reconstituted every three years. The syndicate consisting of 14 members forms the executive body of the University and the management of the institutions maintained by the University is vested in the syndicate. The other authorities of the University are the faculties and the boards of studies]—Chanclr Dr B Ramakrishna Rao BA, LLB, LL D, Vice-chanclr Sir A Ramaswami Mudaliar DCL, Pro-vice-chanclr V Sundarara] Naidu MA, BL, TD, Regtr V P Kannan Nair MA, LT

BHOPAL

Bhopal, formerly an Indian State in Central India, now head quarter of the State of Madhya Pradesh under States reorganisation Act of 1956, is situated in one compact block between North lat 20° 32' and 24° 4' and East Long 76° 28' and 78° 52' and is bounded on the north by the Saugor District of Madhya Pradesh. Running from the extreme North-West for a considerable distance towards the south to about 23° of lat, the river Parvati forms a natural boundary between Bhopal and Gwalior. Close to its source the Western Frontier shoots forth an enclave which runs a wedge into Madhya Bharat and forms the Northern termini of the Southern side to about 77° of Long, the river Nerbudda forms the line of division between Bhopal and the Narsingpur and Hosliangabad Districts of Madhya Pradesh. To the west of the Southern area and south of the projecting enclave, the Holkar Pargana of Alampur in Madhya Bharat helps to complete the south-western boundary. It has an area of 6,918 square miles more than three-fifths of the size of Belgium. Its population according to the Census of 1951 is 8,36,474. Languages spoken:—Urdu and Hindi

More than two-thirds of the State is arable and the soil is generally very fertile. The principal agricultural products are wheat and other cereals and the main cash crops are tobacco and sugarcane. The State forests are spread over an area of about 900,000 acres.

The land system in force in the State is ryotwari by which the cultivators hold the land direct from the Government. There is absolute permanency of tenure so long as the assessment is regularly paid

At present various schemes of development are in the process of implementation in the State. The Central Tractor Organisation is maintaining one of its regional stations in Bhopal and a great headway has already been made by reclaiming over 120,000 acres of Kans-infested and fallow land by the end of the season in June 1951

Industrially, too, the State is well-off having many flourishing industrial concerns within its territory. Bhopal is also rich in deposits, such as bauxite, mica and other valuable minerals

CHHINDWARA

A district in the Jabalpur division of the State of Madhya Pradesh, lying between North Lat 21° 28' and 22° 57'; East Long 78° 10' and 80° 17'; bounded on the north by Hoshangabad and the districts of Jabalpur and Mandla; on the south by Nag pur, Amravati and Bhandara; on the east by Mandla and Balaghat; and on the west by Betul; Area, 7,794 square miles. Languages spoken:—Hindi, Gondi and Marathi

The district consists of three steps or sections of different elevation ascending from the south. The climate in most parts is cold and healthy, being probably the most favourable in the State. The heat is seldom severe while the light rainfall makes the monsoon pleasant. In winter the temperature frequently falls below freezing-point but ice is not often seen. The principal crops are wheat jazvar, pulses, millets and oilseeds. Cotton and sanhemp are also grown. The forests yield considerable quantities of timber and there are several coal mines in the district

PACHMARHI

Pachmarhi town and sanatorium in the Sohagpur Tahsil of Hoshangabad district of Madhya Pradesh, is situated in 22° 28' N and 78° 26, E on a plateauthe Satpura Range 32 miles from Pipariya station, on the Itarsi, Jabalpur section of the Central Railway, chmarhi is connected with Pipariya by a metalled road, along which there is a regular motor bus service, and taxies. The plateau of the Satpura Hills on which the town stands, at an elevation of just 3,500 feet, has an area of 23 square miles the greater part of which w covered with forest. The census population in March 1951 was S242 persons

Visitors from Madras way can reach Itarsi by the Grand Trunk express. Those from Delhi would also do well to travel by the Grand Trunk as there are connecting trains at Itarsi for Pipariya with only a short wait From Allahabad way the Kashi Express is the quickest approach. The Bombay Calcutta mail (via Jabalpur) runs via Pipariya Pachmarhi is reached by road from Nagpur and the south province, and the Deccan by a metalled road via Chhindwara. In the open season the road via Betul and Hoshangabad also makes a pleasant and interesting journey. The old Grand Trunk road via Piperiya, Narsmhapur and then on to Jabalpur i$ being revived and will save a detour of ISO miles. Meanwhile those coming by car from Delhi and Agra eon get to Packmarhi via Jhansi, Saugar, Jabalpur and Chhindwara. Those motoring from Kanpur, Lucknow and Allahabad come at present via Rewa, Katnt, Jabalpur and Chhindwara.

A number of roads of motorable surface (22 miles in all) that lead to Joints on fhe edge of the plateau commandings view of wild cliffs and forests. Bridle paths lead in various directions among the woqds of the maidan, which has an excellent surface for railing. Footpaths have been made to most of the tnew points on the plateau and to the bathing resorts on the streams in the Khuds down below are %n great favour for picnics.

 Propr Raja Sri Krishna Chandra Mansinha Harichandan Mardaraj Bhramarbar Ray, Raja of Parikud

PURI RAJ

Raja Birkisliorc Deb, lineal descendant of the ancient Gajapati Kings of Orissa and the hereditary supdt of the famous Temple of Jagannath at Puri. He is revered by the Hindu puMic at large as "Thakur Maharaj." The famous Temple of Jagannath as well as other temples abounding in Orissa were constructed by his predecessors on the Gaddi and worships are still conducted in all the temples of Orissa in the name of the "Gajapati Maharaj". He has entire control over the administration of the famous Temple of Jagannath to which lakhs of pilgrims resort every year. Dewan to "Gajapali Maharaja" supdt, Jagannath Temple, Jagat Ballav Das BA, and Mangr Jagannath Temple Thatraj Sri Rajraj Deb

SAMBALPUR

*The Sambalpur district of the State of Orissa is an irregular formed tract lying to the north-west of the Province in North Lat 20° 44' and 22° 12'; East Long 82° 39' and 85° 13'. It was formerly an isolated district separated from the rest of the State by the Feudatory States of Orissa. When these States were merged with Orissa in January 1948, the new districts formed from the merger helped to link Sambalpur with the rest of Orissa. It is bounded on the west and north-west by Madhya Pradesh; and on the north and north-east by the new district of Sundargarh, formed from the merger of the Gangapwr and Bonai States; on the east by Dhenkanal; and on the south-east by the new districts of Balanffir-Patna and Kahhandl Area, 6,745 square miles, including area of States merged with district. Lang-

AJMER

Ajmer consists of one district with 3 Sub-divisions, Ajmer, Kekri and Beawar, with an area of 2,425 sq. miles and a population of 692,506 (1951). Formerly the State was administered by the President acting through a Chief Commissioner and who was assisted by a Council of Ministers and a Legislative Assembly of 30 members, now merged in the new State of Rajasthan under States Re-organisation Act of 1956. The City of Ajmer had (1951) a population of 196,633. The estimated revenue was Rs. 2,62,93,000 in 1956-57, and the expenditure Rs. 2,62,93,000.

The State possesses 10 colleges (5200 students), 22 high schools (10,100 students), 39 middle schools (3,300 students), 484 government basic primary schools (25,000 students) and 146 non-basic primary schools (27,000 students). There are also a government teachers' training institute (86 students), 962 social education centres (13,247 students) and a school for the physically handicapped (35 students).

Ajmer has different types of soils, viz. sandy, sandy-loam, clay loam and clayey. Nearly 60% of the population live on agriculture. The total area of the state is a little over 1,536,000 acres, out of which about 616,000 acres are under cultivation, depending on the vagaries of rainfall. The annual produce of foodgrains in normal years varies between 50,000 and 60,000 tons, as against the requirement of about 90,000 tons

Births numbered 15,455 and deaths 12,220 in 1952

The total mileage of roads in the state is 571 miles, which are maintained by the Central Public Works Department and local bodies; e.g., municipalities and district boards. There are 46 different routes on which motor vehicles are plying. The types and number of vehicles plying on the various routes are as follows:—
Passenger Buses 174, Public carriers 120, Taxies 26.

LUCCADIVE, MINICOY AND AMINDIVI ISLANDS

With the reorganisation of States in November 1956, the Government of India took over the Administration of the Laccadive, Minicoy and Amindivi Islands, a small sprawling group of coral islands in the Arabian sea, lying between the latitudes of 9° and 12° north latitude. Total area :-10.07 sqr miles. Population 20,786

They now constitute a Union Territory under an Administrator. Ten of the islands are inhabited out of a total number of 19-MINICOY, KALPBNI, KAVARATHY, AGATHY and ANDKOTH in the Lakshadweep group and AMENI, KADAMATH, KILTAN, CHBTALAT and BITRA in the Amindivi group. Before the reorganisation, the Laccadive and Minicoy islands were part of Malabar District and the Amindivi islands of the South Kanara District forming part of the former composite State of Madras. The administration of the islands was being carried on by the Collectors of Malabar and South Kanara.

The islands lie from north to south, Minicoy being the southernmost and Chetlat the northernmost. They are within 20 to 114 miles away from one another except Ameni and Kadamat which are only six miles apart, they are 125 miles to 250 miles off the Malabar and South Kanara coast.

All the inhabitants of the islands are Muslims. Originally Hindus from Malabar (except Malabaris) the islanders appear to have been converted to Islam some time in the sixth century A D. In appearance, manners and customs the islanders except those from Minicoy are indistinguishable from the Moplahs of Malabar. Their dialect is old Malayalam with local variations peculiar to each island. The Minicoyers are more kin to the inhabitants of the Maldives and their language Mahl, is said to be allied to primitive Sinhalese. The inhabitants can be divided into three classes—namely landed classes, second sailors or fishermen and a small tenants or servant class.

The islanders have never had what may be described as benevolent rule. Patriarchal Government prevailed from the earliest known times, and all authority vested in a chief assisted by a Panchayat formed by members from leading families. This form of Government exists in a modified form to this day. In an intermediate period when they came under the rule of the Rajahs the administration fell virtually into the hands of the latter's paid agents who practised a regular system of extortion which did not relax even when native islanders were appointed to the posts. In the islands formerly administered from South Kanara, the British Government had from the start, a resident Monegar assisted by Karanis or clerks in every island. This system has taken root and at the moment a Deputy Tahsildar exercises the powers of a Second Class Magistrate, a Police Officer, a Revenue Officer and a Port Officer in the Amindivs. He is also a Civil Judge. Island law is a curious mixture of the ordinary Muhammadan Law and the Marumakkathayam Law of Malabar, a distinction being made between self-acquired and inherited property

The Government of India have now sanctioned the appointment of two Tahsildars one for Minicoy and the other for the Laccadive group with a view to improve the existing administrative machinery.

The total revenue from these islands can never be a large amount, because occupied area of the islands is only about 10.67 sqr miles. The present average annual income from this source is only about Rs. 20,000.

The Minicoy island which deserves separate mention, pays a lease amount on Pandaram lands, a poll tax of As. 4 per unmarried women, As. 6 per unmarried men and As. 12 per married couple and two other lease amounts for garden crops and village sites. The poll tax is subject to exceptions. In order to set right the existing systems of land ownership and collections of taxes mentioned above it is proposed to conduct a survey of all the islands to demarcate boundaries and collect land revenues as on the mainland after transjerring the ownersrip from the fees to the land.*

The major source of income from the islands is however the coir monopoly held by the Government. The islanders arc given rice in exchange for coir at the island depots at the exchange rates fixed by Government from time to time by reference to market rates for coir and rice on the mainland. The only agriculture on the island is commit cultivation. There arc nine primary schools, one in each island except Bitra where free midday meals and books and slates are given to the students. Want of proper communication is however the biggest handicap of island administration

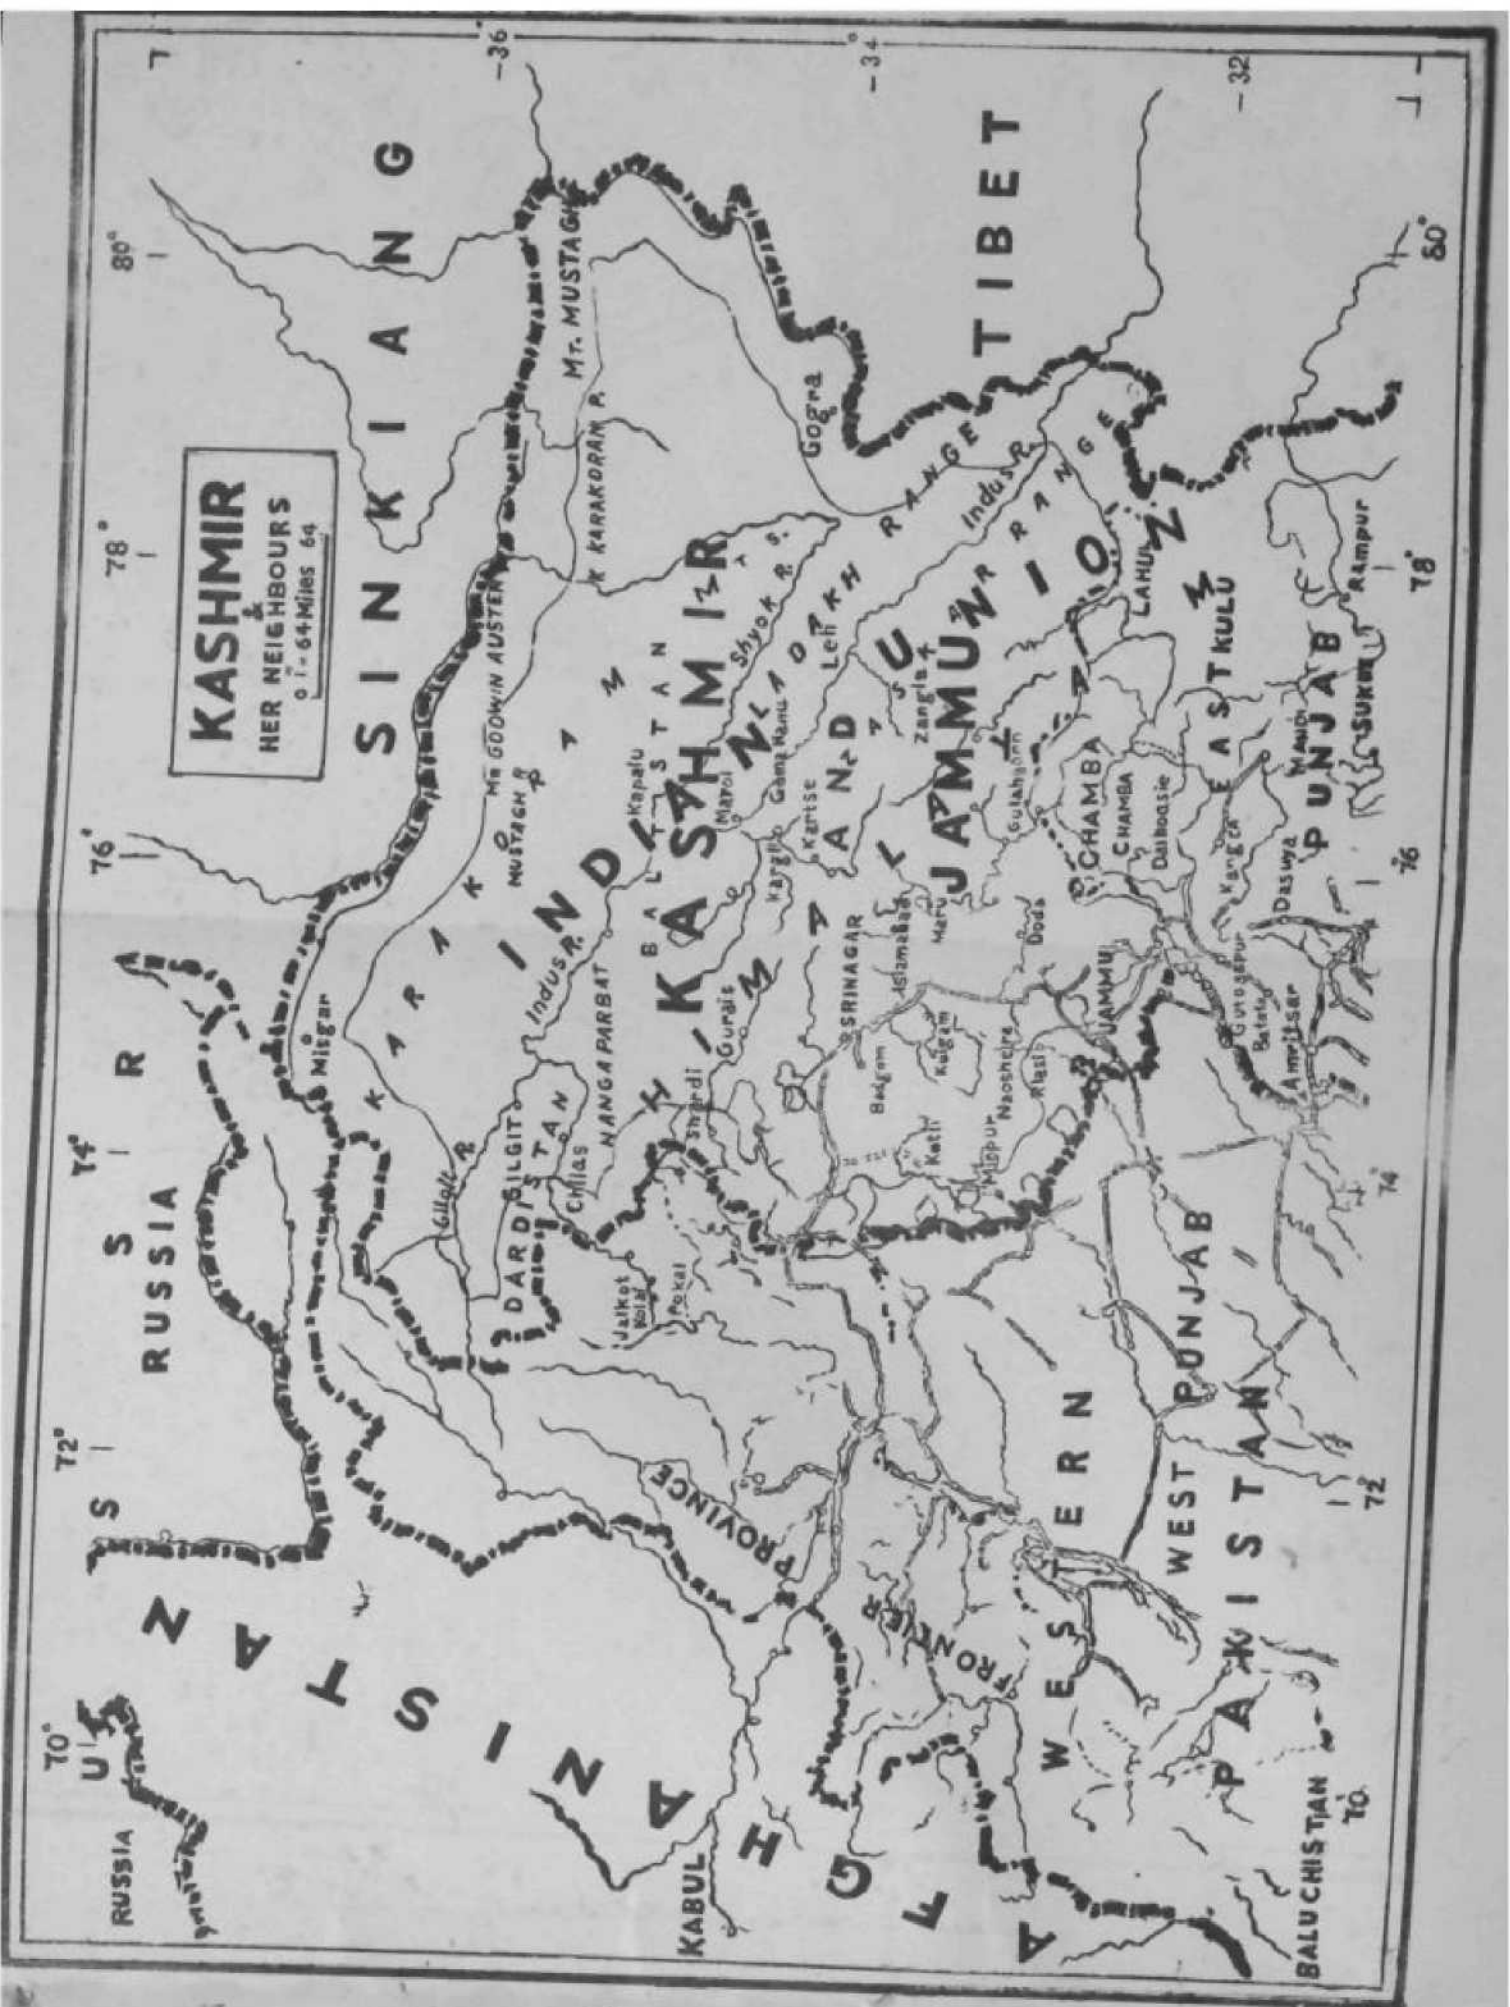

Immediately after the Government of India took over this administration, it was found necessary to draw up a co-ordinated plan for the island. It was also felt that such a plan should be made only after the ascertaining first hand the felt needs of the islanders irrespective of previous reports. The Administrator therefore undertook a fact finding tour of the islands in March-April last and folloiving it, he sent up a draft Second Five Year Plan for this Territory involving an expenditure of 124.107 lakhs, out of which 94 lakhs form regular plan items, apart from the normal expenditure for continuing the administrative set up and normal development. This was scrutinised by \H: various Ministries of the Government of India and also finally approved by the Planning Commission on 30-9—195?[subject to certain minor modifications. This sum will be spent for the organisation, development and expansion of Agriculture and Fisheries, Transport and Communication, Industries, Education, Publicity, Public Health, Survey and Settlement

The President has nominated Shri Koyilat Nallakoya of Androth Island to the Lok Sabha to represent the Laccadive. Minicoy and Amindivi Islands in the Parliament. An Advisory Council has also been constituted by the Ministry of Home Affairs with five islanders to advise the Administrator on all important matters

The Bengal National Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the premier institution of the Indian Commercial Community- in Bengal, was founded in 1887. The objects of the Chamber are to aid and stimulate the development of commercial, agricultural and industrial enterprises in West Bengal and Assam and to protect the commercial interests of all persons trading therein; to promote unanimity- and uniformity of practice amongst the members of the commercial community; to represent their views and requirements to the Government, railway and port authorities; to arrange for organised action on all matters involving the interests of members including conditions of employment of industrial labour; to arbitrate when occasion occurs between parties willing to submit their differences to the Association and generally to do all such things as may be conducive to the interests of the commercial classes of West Bengal and Assam

The constitution of the Chamber extends the facilities of Associate and Honorary membership to the entire trading community in West Bengal. The number of ordinary members on the rolls is 400. Almost all the leading* Indian Commercial and Industrial Firms and persons in every branch of the inland and foreign trade in West Bengal are members of the Chamber. A considerable portion of the joint stock capital invested in West Bengal in banking, insurance, steamer services, cotton mills, etc* is also represented. The constitution of the Chamber provides for a close association as between the Chamber and various sectional organisations of trades and industries of West Bengal

The Chamber enjoys the privilege of electing representatives to the Calcutta Port Trust, the Calcutta Improvement Trust, Howrah Improvement Trust, Economic Enquiry Board, West Bengal, Bengal Electric Power Control Board, Indian Coal Grading Board, Regional Transport Authority, Indian Central Jute Committee, Indian Central Cotton Committee, Calcutta. Telephone 'Advisory Committee, Board of Examiners under West Bengal Boilers Engineers Examination Rules Appellate Authority undei West Bengal Boilers Rules 1950, Railway Users' Consultative Committee and other important bodies

The headquarters of the Chamber are at Calcutta and its affairs are administered by a committee of 32 members in addition to the President, two Vice-Presidents and the Honorary Treasurer with the help of the Secretary and a number of departmental committees

Office-bearers and Members of the Executive Committees for 1957

The Aswiat'on, which was established in 1938, has been formed with a view to promoting and protecting the ipterests of the manufacturers of chemical, pharmaceu-tical and allied products in India. It is an All-India organisation and comprises members from different parts of India. The multifarious activities of the Association include co-ordination of the views of individual manu-facturing units, representing their cases to the Central as well as State Governments, posting its members with relevant information etc. The membership of the Association is grouped into the following Divisions: (i) Pharmaceuticals ft Fine Chemicals Division, (ii) Acids ft Fertilizers Division, (iii) Alkalis Division, (iv) Dycstuffs Division and (v) Miscellaneous Chemicals Division; and the work of the Association is conducted by its Executive Committee in the light of recommenda-tions from the respective Divisional Committees. The admission fee for membership of the Association is Fs. 500.00 and the annual subscription is Rs. 750.00 plus a sum of Rs. 250.00 in case the lines of manu-facture of the members cover more than one Division as mentioned above. Any individual firm or company owning or managing one or more factory or factories in India worked by steam, water, electric and/or other power for the manufacture of chemical, pharmaceutical and allied products and/or by-products, is eligible for membership of the Association. Its registered office is at India Exchange, Calcutta-1 (Phone Nos 22-3242-43-44; Tel i'—INDKEM) and it has its Regional Office in Bom-bay at Sir Vithaldas Chambers, Apollo Street, Fort, Bombay-1 (Phone No 34903; Tel ad—KEMBOM)

The Association has been publishing since last year a monthly journal entitled 'Chemical Industry News' which serve* as an important source of reference. Besides this, it published two editions of the 'Survey of Indian Chemical & Pharmaceutical Industry/ one in 1951 and another in 1954

MERCHANTS, AGENTS, TRADING FIRMS, ETC

AD firms appearing in this Section in BOLD TYPE are given one entry free, in ordinary type, under any specified heading in the "Alphabetically Arranged list of Trades and Professions"

Extra entries are accepted on payment of a fee of Rs. 3 per entry in Ordinary type. All Bold type entries are charged for at Rs. 5 each,

A discount of 25 per cent is allowed on 6 or more BOLD TYPE entries ONLY.

New headings in addition to this List may be created, if found necessary, at the discretion of the Publishers (on a minimum payment of Rs. 10 per entry)

FOREIGN AGENCIES

All firms incorporated outside India are classified by us as "Foreign Agencies"⁹⁹ and information regarding these is only included in the particulars of firms in our Commercial Sections on payment of a fee of Rs. 3 for each agency held. For this fee we classify each agency under Products and Manufacturers in a separate section called "Classified List of Products and Manufacturers of Foreign Merchants"⁹⁹ which will be found at the end of the book. All Bold type entries are charged for at Rs. 5 each.

The above applies to all Commercial Sections
